Editorial Review

About the Author

Janet Dailey, who passed away in 2013, was born Janet Haradon in 1944 in Storm Lake, Iowa. She attended secretarial school in Omaha, Nebraska, before meeting her husband, Bill. The two worked together in construction and land development until they “retired” to travel throughout the United States, inspiring Janet to write the Americana series of romances, setting a novel in every state of the Union. In 1974, Janet Dailey was the first American author to write for Harlequin. Her first novel was No Quarter Asked. She has gone on to write approximately ninety novels, twenty-one of which have appeared on the New York Times bestseller list. She won many awards and accolades for her work, appearing widely on radio and television. Today, there are over three hundred million Janet Dailey books in print in nineteen different languages, making her one of the most popular novelists in the world. Amanda Furr:

In this particular era which is the greater person or who has ability in doing something more are more precious than other. Do you want to become among it? It is just simple way to have that. What you need to do is just spending your time little but quite enough to experience a look at some books. One of several books in the top listing in your reading list is usually Something Extra. This book which can be qualified as The Hungry Inclines can get you closer in growing to be precious person. By looking way up and review this book you can get many advantages.

Marion Richey:

As a student exactly feel bored to be able to reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some guide, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's heart or real their hobby. They just do what the educator want, like asked to go to the library. They go to at this time there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring and also can't see colorful photos on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important in your case. As we know that on this era, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this Something Extra can make you sense more interested to read.
